

Frame Rejuvenation Kit

Prolonged use or exposure to sunlight may gradually degrade the marine varnish. This kit is designed to help restore your Greencorner umbrella to an original-looking condition and act as a sealant to protect the wood.

Kit Contents:

Bottle Hope's Tung Oil

Requirements for Application:

Rubber Gloves

Cloths for Oil Application

WARNING: This product will stain canopies, clothes and surfaces. Take care not to spill the oil and be sure to wear gloves! While tung oil is vegetable-based and non-toxic, it can very easily stain surfaces and ruin clothes. Save the gloves between applications.

Note: There is usually no reason to reseal the ribs, as they are protected by the canopy, but in the event that you are recoating any of the umbrella ribs, we highly suggest removing the canopy first. In this case, wait 24 hours after the final coat to reattach the canopy in order to avoid stains. See canopy repair guide on our website to see the proper way how.

Application

1. Pour a dollop of tung oil onto a rag and thoroughly apply to the affected surfaces. You can overlap with any unaffected areas, as the oil will cure clear. Wipe off any excess.
2. Let dry for 24 hours before reapplying. Three coats are recommended to produce the desired long-lasting result. Reapply using the same procedure.
3. Enjoy the shade of your rejuvenated Greencorner umbrella!

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact Greencorner customer support directly at support@greencorner.com or by calling (888) 428-0800!

greencorner.com
T – 888.428.0800
F – 407.859.1045
info@greencorner.com